OUR ENGLISH LETTER.

LONDON, ENGLAND, Dec. 6, 1901.

Editor Thoroughbred Record:

All through the week, commencing last Monday morning, the Messrs. Tattersall have been holding their annual sale of all sorts and conditions of thoroughbreds. From early morn to dewy eve, the eloquence of Mr. Somerville Tattersall has filled the air of Park Paddocks, with information concerning the pedigrees of the countless broodmares, yearlings, foals, horses in training and stallions, which have passed under his hammer. Some fetched big prices—and as the week wore on things certainly improved—but during the first two days something like a slump seemed to have set in. This was in its way surprising, for Germany, Austria, France and America, were not without representatives at the ring-side, but in the early stages of such a big sale—it does not come to an end until to-morrow afternoon, when the last contingent of what originally were 820 lots comes up for sale—things were bound to drag a bit, and the snappers up of unconsidered trifles, accordingly had a good time, animals going for absurdly low prices. As the better class, or more fashionably bred stock, began to come in later in the week, however, the bigger buyers joined in from time to time and at times really big figures were reached. Broodmares, covered by fashionable sires, went perhaps, better than anything; especially if they themselves were by such approved sires of broodmares as Bend Or, St. Simon, Galopin, Hampton, Isonomy, and, let me add, Minting. A comparatively rare thing nowadays, was a mare by Hermit, whose daughters are becoming fewer in number than they were, although they still muster in fair force, but are not often seen in the sale ring. The daughter of the snowstorm-Derby winner referred to, was Penitent, dam of Ravensbury—who ran such a heart-breaking series of seconds to Isinglass in the classic and other events of 1893. Penitent being by Hermit, out of Stray Shot, is also an own sister to Shotover, which mare shares in common with Eleanor and Blink Bonny, the distinction of having herself won the Derby. The biggest American buyer was Mr. James R. Keene, for whom Mr. W. Allison purchased two charming mares in Rosegarland for $5,250 and Lady Minting for $15,750, the latter thus fetching the highest price of the whole sale up to to-night. She is by Minting, out of Virginia Shore (Whittier's dam), and is to be sent next season to be mated with Florizel II. (sire of Volodyovski and Doricles.) Rosegarland will also be bred to the same stallion. Eugene Leigh kept picking up bargains and doubtless a few of his purchases will find their way to America. King of Coins, for instance, the bay three-year-old colt by St. Simon, out of Lady Minting (the mare Mr. Keene bought), must be dirt cheap for stud purposes at the low price of $865. I particularly mentioned him a few weeks ago, when writing of promising young horses in the sale catalogue. Leigh also bought the ten-year-old Sempronius, by Wisdom, out of Hamptonia. He was not a bad race-horse, winning several medium three-year old events and he has got some pretty useful winners in the plating class, such as Gay Consul. Wishard invested in the good-looking four-year-old Alvecot, by Raeburn, out of Alberta, getting him within his value for $5,250, and as he could not be in better hands than those of the astute Enoch Wishard, he will probably win one of the Spring handicaps next season. This year he ran into a place in no fewer than three of them, but then his longish pasterns told against him as the ground became harder and he did not come out again after his third unsuccessful essay, when he finished a capital third to Santor and Calman for the Jubilee. If skill can screw a race out of him, Wishard will do it. The following is a complete list of all that fetched 500 guineas or over during the five days sale ending this afternoon.

As I predicted, Mr. Kincaid bought in Epsom Lad and Black Sand and is going to race them again next year, but whether his trainer Alvarez, comes back or not, is still unsettled. He is rather delicate and finds our changeable climate very trying after South America. Gomez, too, who participated in Epsom Lad's three big victories, has accepted an engagement to train and ride in France, so probably Mr. Kincaid will have to look out for a new trainer and jockey as well.

There has been some betting on next year's Derby and Mr. Faber's recent $110,000 purchase, Duke of Westminster, is by common consent, the favorite at 11 to 2 against. Unbeaten, he has only won two races, but his victory over Game Chick at Goodwood, was a performance that stamps him as one of the best of his year. Some say absolutely the best and on the strict book he certainly has a few pounds the better of Ard Patrick. Still Maher rode anything but a brilliant race on Ard Patrick, when Game Chick, with Johnny Reiff in the saddle, beat him a neck for the seven-furlong Dewhurst Plate, and Ard Patrick was still on that occasion a mere baby of a horse and backward enough to give one hopes of developing into an even better three-year-old than his half-brother, Galtee More. A favorite mode of speculation during the winter months with backers is to take four horses against the field and after careful scrutiny of all those left in the Derby, I have no hesitation in picking Ard Patrick (who just prior to his defeat by Game Chick, won two valuable races), Duke of Westminster and the first and second in the Middle Park Plate, Minstead and Csardas. One can back this quartette mixed, by laying even money, and at present the bookmakers seem inclined to go on taking the field against them, but how much longer they will remain so complaisant is doubtful. There may be a good one amongst the dark horses, possibly Floriage, a bay colt by Florizel II., out of Maid of Athol, who belongs to Mr. Simpson Jay, and is, of course, an own brother to Floriform. Maid of Athol is a daughter of The Miser, though I must confess that I have something of a prejudice against the blood. Possibly danger may threaten from Mr. W. C. Whitney's colt Nasturtium, who is said to be likely to come over to become acclimatized and to be at his best, however, he should have arrived here a couple of months ago, so at present I shall not worry myself about his chance, however good a colt he may really be when at the top of his form. Reducing my quartette to a couple, I should first leave out the Middle Park Plate winner and his runner-up, Minstead and Csardas. You see, Port Blair was third only a length and a half behind them—and from what I know of that colt he is not so good as his stable companion, Ard Patrick. From 7 lbs. to 10 lbs. was, I hear, the measure of Ard Patrick's superiority last summer, and as he is bound to go on improving, I think it even safer to rely upon Ard Patrick than upon Duke of Westminster.

I have at last been able to procure a photograph of Game Chick, who through her form with the two brilliant colts just mentioned, is fully entitled to rank as the best filly of her year. Her York defeat by St. Windeline I take no notice of, for Game Chick had been off color, and smart though St. Windeline is, she had really no pretensions to beat the handsome daughter of Gallinule. No, there is more danger to Game Chick in the fillies' classic events from Sterling Balm, than from St. Windeline. Altogether Game Chick ran in eleven races of which she won six, was three times second, once third and once fourth. This was when she ran in the Middle Park Plate, behind Minstead, Csardas and Port Blair, but she ran slack that day, and showed little or no fire, and it must not be forgotten that earlier in the autumn she had beaten Csardas very comfortably in the Champagne Stakes at Doncaster, when Sceptre was third and four others unplaced. It is hardly necessary to repeat that Game Chick is trained by John Huggins, or that she was bred in Ireland by her owner, Major Eustace Loder. Her pedigree, which is as under, would be an interesting one, if only because it brings together Stockwell and his half-brother Knight of Kars, by Nutwith (winner of the 1843 St. Leger), out of the famous Pocahontas. It is but seldom that one drops upon Knight of Kars in a latter day pedigree, but even more curious it is to note the "outside" figures close up in her pedigree. Herself of the No 14 family, her sire Gallinule, is by a No. 19 horse, out of a No 19 mare and this inbreeding to one family occurs again with Barcaldine, who was by a No. 23 sire, out of a mare of the same figure. Yardley blood is very strong in Game Chick's make-up, Sterling (by a No. 12 sire, out of a No. 12 dam), appearing at the top and again in the bottom half of her pedigree.

In spite of the absence of running family figures close up Game Chick has altogether 23 good figures, i. e., sire and running, and then No. 19 and No. 23, two families that are given to the production of phenomenal racehorses, have apparently combined to produce another smasher in Game Chick, who is the third foal of her dam. In all Game Chick's six successes have brought in close upon $50,000, and I trust that in the shapely brown daughter of Gallinule Huggins will next season saddle the winner of the One Thousand Guineas and Oaks.

In another photograph are shown some of the now yearlings in Huggins' string, of which the leading trio are those leased by Mr. W. C. Whitney from Lady Meux, namely White Webbs, a brown son of Trenton—Spoleta; Uncle Reggie, a brown son of Florizel II.—Agnostic, and Pan Michael, a bay son of the now defunct Juggler—Lady Susan. A good deal is, I believe, thought of Uncle Reggie, whose two year-old half sister Ayrshire Girl, by Ayrshire, is in Eugene Leigh's stable and ran second in July at Newmarket to Huggins' filly by Ayrshire out of Abeysance.

Jumping races are meantime progressing, and a very smart hurdle racer has been discovered in the three year-old First Attempt, who has scored thrice in succession at Portsmouth Park, Kempton and Gatwick. First Attempt is by Chillington out of Manoeuvre, the famous dam of the Derby winner Sir Hugo. Sir Hugo was got by Wisdom, which was evidently a better cross for Manoeuvre than Chillington, for First Attempt was unable to win anything under Jockey Club Rules. As a yearling Mr. J. W. Larnach gave $1,300 for him, but R. Marsh could not make him win so he was sold cheaply to Mr. Samuels, for whom he has turned out a highly profitable purchase. At Kempton last Saturday he beat among others an own brother to that magnificent chaser Hidden Mystery, who unfortunately broke his neck last spring at the regulation "open ditch." This wretched mongrel obstacle, which is neither "flesh, fowl, nor red herring," being an unnatural sort of death trap, still continues to take toll in a wholesale kind of way from amongst our jumpers, and only last Wednesday two animals broke their legs at the open ditch at Gatwick and were performed shot immediately afterwards. Fortunately they were neither of them of such good class as Hidden Mystery, Wellesley, or Ballyhack, who were three of the most brilliant steeplechasers I have seen for many a long day and each worth a mint of money. Returning to First Attempt, his sire Chillington, who ran second in Seabreezy's St. Leger, is a good looking brown horse, by rare old Chippendale out of Duvernay (dam of Quicklime—second in Shotover's Derby—and of Limestone, &c.) Many of the descendants of Chippendale are natural jumpers, so I presume that is why First Attempt takes so kindly to hurdle racing. One son of Chippendale that I call to mind as having been a particularly smart hurdle racer was Xylophone, who won a great number of events.

A good deal of excitement has been caused in the turf world by the gigantic frauds perpetrated on the Bank of Liverpool by a clerk in the bank's employ. Several persons who were erroneously alleged to be bookmakers have been arrested in connection with the affair as well as the defaulting bank clerk, but the betting transactions said to have taken place between the parties were on the face of it funny affairs. When men are reported to have laid Goudie, the bank clerk in question, such bets for example as £70,000 to £10,000 in one hand, it is simply reducing the matter to sheer nonsense. Such enormous single bets as this, or even half the amount, not even the biggest bona fide bookmaker going would lay nowadays, and yet we are asked to believe that a number of transactions of the kind took place between Goudie and his "bookmakers." Of course the anti-gambling crowd will take advantage of the frauds to once more point to the turf as a sink of iniquity, but the turf is no more responsible for the iniquitous proceedings of Goudie than the nonconformist church (or whatever the dissenting branch of our religion may dub itself in the aggregate) was responsible for the infinitely greater frauds, and infinitely more heartless and wicked frauds perpetrated some years ago by that pillar of nonconformity, Jabez Spencer Balfour. In that case much of the loss fell on widows and orphans, but in the present one the bank loses. The loss, moreover, will not apparently be very great, as much of the "conveyed" property has been attached, or in other words the banks in which part of the money has been deposited by parties concerned have been warned not to pay any of it away until the case is settled one way or the other.

HAGIOSCOPE.

UNEQUAL FACTORS.

GEORGETOWN, Ky., Dec. 20, 1901.

Editor Thoroughbred Record:

I will explain how it happens I occupy the columns of your paper so frequently with my short scrap articles on turf topics. I am a very old man, too feeble to engage in manual employment. Idleness is insufferable, and the most agreeable employment to my mind is in exploring the musty records of the Stud Book and analyzing the pedigree of noted animals, hunting for the prime factors in them.

All the names making up a pedigree are not equal factors; sometimes there may be one, two or more producing causes acting in unison, whilst the majority of names composing a pedigree, are mere negative appendages. How do I distinguish factors from other names composing a pedigree? By noting their controlling force in numerous positions; sometimes single, sometimes double and again in a treble alliance; in the latter event generally forming a dynamic or prepotent force, sufficient to transmit their influence to several generations. For instance, the treble cross of Young Giantess, in the mating of Bay Middleton and Crucifix, gave a prepotent force of sufficient power to create a Cowl, a Miss Sellon and a Seclusion and aid in the formation of a Hermit. Now had those mares, Miss Sellon and Seclusion, been males, instead of females in this line, the extended influence of Bay Middleton and Crucifix, would have been obvious to all, but they are lost sight of on account of sex.

Again, I might refer to the treble cross of Young Giantess, in the mating of Bay Middleton and Miss Letty, originating a prepotent force extending to Oxford, Sterling and Isonomy, reinforced on the way by the aid of that factor Birdcatcher, the Waxey blood in Bay Middleton and Birdcatcher strengthening the strain. In this last instance, the female intervenes again to obscure the connection. Another treble cross of Young Giantess, may be found in the mating of Sheet Anchor and Miss Letty, in forming the Weatherbit line, founder of the Beadsman line, &c., &c. I might give other instances in which Priam's daughters play a conspicuous part.

THE INFLUENCE OF SIRE AND DAM ON FOAL.

CHICAGO, ILL., Dec. 17, 1901.

Editor Thoroughbred Record:

DEAR SIR:—In your last issue there was an article on the "Influence of Sire and Dam On Foal," by Mr. George Voorhies. I must say that I have read in the last thirty years many arguments on the same subject, but his line of presenting the case is something new, and in my opinion is indisputable, and all theories to the contrary will be as harmless to his line of argument as snowballs against a stone wall. A few isolated cases will not affect it in the least.

DEATH OF IMP. ESHER.

At Hartland Stud, on last Monday morning, the great and successful sire, imp. Esher, property of J. N. Camden, Jr., succumbed to an attack of inflammation of the bowels, complicated with pneumonia. He was first noticed to be ill on Sunday morning, prior to which he was in superb health. His death is a great loss, not only to Hartland, but also to the turf, as he had almost attained the enviable position of premier sire of America, and his get, with speed and stamina as chief characteristics, was eagerly sought for by turfmen both East and West.

Esher was a brown horse, foaled 1883, by Claremont, (son of Blair Athol), out of Una, by Ellington or Dusk, she out of Conjecture, by Augur.

Esher started six times at two years of age, won three races and was once second, viz.:

At Nottingham, for the Little John Plate of 200 sovereigns, about five furlongs Esher 124 lbs. beat Wild Notes 111 lbs., second; Joyous 117 lbs., third, and seven others. Won by two lengths. At Northampton, for the Auction Stakes of £245, five furlongs, Esher 114 lbs. beat the Celosia colt 114 lbs., second, and Glade 106 lbs., third, and five others. Won by a length. At Stockbridge, for the Stockbridge Foal Stakes of £430, Bush 1n, Esher 126 lbs., beat the Duke of Portland's great filly, Modwena a brilliant two-year-old, 127 lbs., second; Pampas Grass, 121 lbs., third, and three others. Won by a head.

At three he ran third for the Welbeck Cup in a field of eighteen.

At four years old Esher won twice. At Newmarket for the Soham Plate of 200 sovereigns, five furlongs, Esher 112 lbs., beat Invention 129 lbs., second, Pierrepont 116 lbs., third, and six others. Won by three parts of a length. At Lewes for the Castle Plate of £195, five furlongs Esher 126 lbs., beat Laceman 123 lbs., second, Indian Star 123 lbs., third, and four others. Won by two lengths.

Claremont, Esher's sire, was a very highly tried horse in his work, and was a good race horse. At two years old Claremont started twice, running second to Camballo for the Hurstbourne Stakes, and third to Balfe for the Chesterfield Stakes. At three years old he started only twice, ran unplaced to Camballo for the Two Thousand Guineas, and ran Galopin to a length for the Derby, beating Balfe, Camballo and others. At four years old he started six times, won twice. The Severn Cup, one mile, 115 lbs. up, beating six others, and the Great Autumn Welter Cup, one mile, 115 lbs. up, beating five others.

Blair Athol, Claremont's sire, by Stockwell (winner of the St. Leger), dam Blink Bonny (winner of the Oaks and Derby), by Melbourne. Blair Athol was a first-class race horse, winner of the Derby and St. Leger, and a first class sire in England. The only son of Stockwell to lead the winning sires list, which he did four times.

Ellington, who divides the paternity of Una, Esher's dam, won the Derby, and is by The Flying Dutchman, a famous race horse, and winner of the Derby, St. Leger and other races, and out of Ellerdale by Lanercost, who was the grandam of imp. The Ill Used.

Dusk was a son of Wild Dayrell (winner of the Derby) and Circassian Maid by Lanercost.

Esher has made a remarkable showing as a sire, as evidenced by the many good horses to his credit, as follows, viz.:

Sunny Slope (winner of eight races as a two-year-old, including the Seashore and Autumn Maiden Stakes, and the Nautilus Stakes, and Sea Gull Handicap at three); Alcedo (winner of The Suburban Handicap, 1½ miles in 2:05 3-5, the Jerome Handicap, 1½ miles in 2:07, Speculation Stakes and seven other races, including a mile in 1:38½ and 1 1-16 miles in 1:46½); Sharon (winner of the Cumberland Prize and thirteen other races); Van Antwerp (winner of Domino Stakes, Special Stakes and other races); Queen of Song (winner of Z o Z o Stakes, and over twenty other races, including a mile in 1:40½ in which she defeated Voter); Garry Herrmann (winner of Hammond, Juvenile, Youngster and Champagne Stakes, Highweight Handicap, and thirteen other races); Lady Schorr (winner of Ardelle Stakes, Galveston, G. H. Mumm and Turf Congress Handicap, at 2 years old, the M. Lewis Clark Stakes, Turf Congress Handicap, Latonia Oaks, Kentucky Oaks, Tennessee Oaks at three.); His Excellency (winner of seven races, including ½ in 1:01½ and a mile in 1:40, the fastest race ever run at Louisville); Her Excellency (winner of eight races, including a mile in 1:41); Bonadea (winner of McGrathiana Stakes and five other races); The Hoyden (winner of Premier Stakes 1901); Benson Caldwell (winner of the Whiting Stakes); Sister Juliet, Chas. W. Meyer, Sweet Clover, Velleda, Reina, Elmer L., Darlene, Theory (winner of over twenty races); Everest, Earth, Beryl Star, Foreseen, King Esher, Queen Esher, Egger, Newport, Pleureuse, Willie Louise, Guildler, Louise, Edna Gerry, Hagerdon, Lew Kraft, Pantland, Pride of the Barn, Cupa, La Desirous, Aaron Volkman, Geo. W. Jenkins, Mary Keene, Eli, Lenox and many other good performers.

BROOKLYN JOCKEY CLUB STAKES.

Attention is directed to the attractive list of stakes advertised by the Brooklyn Jockey Club, which are to close January 2, 1902, and to be decided at the spring meeting of 1902. For 3 year-olds and upwards the classic Brooklyn Handicap first demands attention and then come the Standard, Myrtle and Patchogue Stakes and the Brookdale and Parkaway Handicaps. For 3 year-olds the offering is comprised of the Broadway, Preakness and May Stakes. The Clover, Manhasset, Hanover and Bedford Stakes will be decided by the 2 year-olds, and the jumpers will contend for the Empire State and Greater New York steeplechases and the Kensington Hurdle Handicap. The Club reserves the right to start any or all of the races announced in their advertisement with or without aid of a starting machine. Entry blanks can be had at this office.

BRIGHTON BEACH ASSOCIATION STAKES.

The notice of breeders and turfmen is directed to the announcement in this issue of the stakes offered by the Brighton Beach Racing Association which will close on Tuesday, December 31, 1901. There are four stakes for three year-olds and upwards, including the Brighton Cup with $5,000 added and Brighton Handicap with $5,000 added; two stakes for three-year-olds, including the Seagate with $2,000 added; three stakes for two-year-olds with $1,500 added to each event, and four stakes for steeplechase and hurdle horses. In addition to the above named the Brighton Beach Association announces conditions for the Produce Stakes of $15,000, to be run at the Summer meeting of 1904. This is for produce of mares covered in 1901, and the race will be run in two divisions, viz: a race for colts and geldings only, and for fillies only. The Produce Stakes should attract attention of all breeders and should be accorded liberal patronage from all breeding establishments.

CONEY ISLAND STAKES.

In the advertising columns of this issue will be found the announcement of the Coney Island Jockey Club's stakes that will close on January 2, 1902. With the exception of the Futurity of 1904 all that close on the above mentioned date will be decided during the coming season. For the June meeting are offered the Great Trial, Double Event, each Event worth $5,000, but should the same animal win both $1,000 additional, Zephyr, Spring and Vernal (fillies) for two-year-olds; the Swift and Spindrift, for three-year-olds; the Suburban, one of the biggest features of American racing, June Handicaps (viz: Coney Island, Sheepshead Bay and Long Island), Advance, Equality and Thistle Stakes, for three-year-olds and upwards. The jumpers are offered the Beacon, Independence and the Rockaway Cup. For the Autumn meeting of 1902 are the Flight, for two year-olds and upwards; the September, for three-year olds; the Autumn and Flatbush Stakes and the Great Eastern Handicap, for two-year-olds. The Futurity of 1904 has $10,000 added, estimated value $75,000. This event should receive more patronage than ever before, not only because the nominators of the first, second and third horses will receive respectively $2,000, $1,250 and $500, but because it makes the get of the sire and the produce of the dam of the winner infinitely more valuable.

Entry blanks may be obtained at this office.

NEW MEMPHIS JOCKEY CLUB STAKES.

We again call attention to the stakes announced by the New Memphis Jockey Club which appear in the advertising columns of this issue. These stakes will close on January 7, 1902. It will be noticed that there are three stakes for 2-year-olds, three stakes for 3-year-olds and upwards, and the Cotton Steeplechase Stakes. Attention is called to the increase in the value of the latter from $700 added to $1,000 added; also to the conditions of the Hotel Gayoso Stakes, for 3-year-olds. The idea of this race, is a consolation for horses beaten in the Tennessee Derby and Oaks, and its conditions are so framed that the winner of this event will not take up a penalty in the Kentucky Derby, the conditions of which penalize a winner of a 3 year old race of the value of $1,500 to the winner. This race will afford a good trial for, and a line on the Kentucky Derby, as it will be decided the latter part of the meeting. The Tennessee Derby, $3,000 added, and Tennessee Oaks, $1,500 added, for 1903, close also on January 7, 1902. Owners of promising youngsters should not overlook these two valuable stakes. It costs nothing to enter, and declarations can be made May 1, for $10. Entry blanks at this office.

LOCAL TURF NEWS.

The grand looking bay horse Sanders, property of C. F. Hill, arrived at Beaumont Stud, last Monday, where he will make the season of 1902. By many this speedy son of Hanover is considered the best individual ever begotten by that redoubtable sire, aside from which his pedigree includes some of the most fashionable blood lines to be found in the English Stud Book. His dam, imp. Constantinople, is by Lord Lyon (son of Stockwell), she out of Curiosity, by Lord Clifden (son of Newminster), she out of Doorha, by The Hermit (son of Bay Middleton) Such breeding as this cannot be excelled. On the turf Sanders showed form nearly, if not first class, from the very beginning of his career in 1897, as a two-year old up to and including 1901. He won fourteen races, was second fourteen times and third seven times, winning $13,560. His victories including the Manhattan Handicap, Eclipse Course, in 1:11; the Falcon Stakes at Gravesend, 1 1-16 miles in 1:49; seven furlongs in 1:27; mile in 1:40; six furlongs in 1:15, with 140 lbs. up, 1:13 25 with 125 lbs., and 1:14 45 with 129 lbs. Sanders has the credentials requisite for a winning sire, and his career at H. P. Headley's Beaumont Farm will be watched with interest.

Three English stallions, due to arrive in New York to day, are coming to Kentucky, consigned to Milton Young, and will be on exhibition at McGrathiana. These stallions are beautifully bred and all are winners. The horses are as follows:

Sampronius, bay horse, 10, by Wisdom, out of Hamptonia, by Hampton; 2d dam Feronia (dam of St. Serf), by Thormanby; 3d dam Woodbine, by Stockwell.

Widower, chestnut horse, 8, by Galliard, out of Highland Widow, by Scottish Chief; 2d dam Hilda, by The Prime Minister; 3d dam Ethel, by Ethelbert.

McNeil, chestnut horse, 9, by Galliard, out of Zuriba, by Hampton; 2d dam Zee, by The Palmer; 3d dam Lady Blanche, by Voltigeur.

On the turf Sampronius was quite a classy performer, numbering among his victories the Exeter Stakes, Hurstbourne Stakes, Craven Stakes, Ascot Biennial Stakes, and the Great Foal Stakes, besides being second in the Whitsuntide Handicap, Ascot Biennial Stakes, Champagne Stakes, Breeders' Foal Stakes, Cheveley Stakes, Newmarket Biennial Stakes, Epsom Grand Prize, Jockey Club Cup, and third in the Middle Park Plate, Prince of Wales' Stakes and the Prince Edward Handicap.

McNeil won the Hyde Park Plate, Chippenham Stakes and Great Tom Stakes, besides being placed in the Prince of Wales' Stakes, Liverpool St. Leger and other important events.

Widower was also a winner.

Standing, by imp. Candlemas, out of The Lioness, is a recent arrival at H. P. Headley's Beaumont Farm, where he will make the season of 1902.

Heliobas, the 5-year-old son of Farandole and imp. Bowden Lass by Galliard, arrived here on Sunday last from New York, and within three hours after unloading was dead. The cause of his death was inflammation of the bowels. Heliobas was sent here by his owner to be retired to the stud and on his breeding and performances would have been quite an acquisition to the thoroughbred interest of Kentucky. Heliobas was a horse of rare speed, good in any kind of going and capable of carrying any kind of weight.

During his four seasons on the turf he was a consistent performer, winning above $10,000, among his victories being the Wenonah and Flight Stakes and the Parkville Handicap.

Clarence H. Mackay has purchased from John E. Madden, twenty-eight choice bred mares in foal to the stallions at Hamburg Place. Owing to the fact that there was some hitch in the negotiations a short while ago, no mention was made of the transaction, but now that the deal is closed, we publish below the complete list. These mares are all entered by Mr. Mackay in the $10,000 Hopeful Stake to be run at Saratoga in 1904. In this lot of matrons are some great performers, great producers, and sisters and half sisters to some of the highest class performers and producers of the past decade.

Below will be found a list of youngsters, which arrived at the Kentucky Association course on Wednesday. The horses are the property of Jacob Rubino, of New York, and J. B. Haggin. The former is to be congratulated in his selection of J. C. Milam as a trainer as he has come rapidly to the fore in the past few years as an expert horseman and conditioner, and there are few in the business that excel him in the art of training John Stevens, who has charge of the Haggin string, is a son of the well-known and successful horseman T. H. Stevens, and promises to follow in the footsteps of his father. He has had quite some experience in breaking yearlings at Walnut Hill, and has done remarkably well in the way of handling youngsters.

Dr. Jaf. Kerr, of Washington, D. C., was a guest of Major Daingerfield at Castleton for several days during the past week. Dr. Kerr has leased Chorister for the season of 1902 and he will be located in Virginia, where the Doctor has a choice band of mares.

St. Avonicus, a brown four-year-old son of St. Simon and Avonwater by Prism (son of Uncas), arrived in New York on Monday last, consigned to John Hanning, of the American Bloodstock Agency. This superb looking son of St. Simon is splendidly bred, his second dam being Avondale by Ben Battle, she out of Inamorata by Lothario and so back to the Sedbury Royal mare, founder of the No. 11 Bruce Lowe family, some of whose most famous representatives are St. Simon, Orme, Royal Hampton, Faugh-a-Ballagh, Birdcatcher, Venison, Lottery and many others. Mr. Hanning has been the medium of bringing to Kentucky Sandringham, Woolsthorpe, Sorcerer, Bridgewater, St. Evox, Star Shoot, etc., and it was on Mr. Hanning's advice that Major B. G. Thomas secured the successful young sire Dr. MacBride.

B. Frank Littrell, Worthington, Ky., has sold to Western parties the black yearling colt Kentucky Wonder, by Oakwood out of Emma Eames, by Linden, and the two year-old colt, Tom Logan, by Jim Gray, out of Lady Bellevue, by imp. Rossington.

Hastings, Spendthrift and imp. Cinderella's son, has made a grand beginning in 1901, as he sired the winners Carroll D., Red Damsel, Miss Hastings, Gunfire, winner of the Venus Stakes; Amicitia, James P. Keating, Lady Viola, Masterman, winner of the United States Hotel Stakes, Leonid, Floret, Leenja, Happy, Anak, Cast Iron, Namtor, winner of the Yankee Handicap, and Pentecost, that won the Harold, Maywood and Nasurtum Stakes and Prospect Handicap, in addition to three purses. Sixteen winners the first year at the stud is an extraordinarily good showing.

Julius Bauer, trainer for A. Featherstone, after a two weeks' visit to New York, is back in Lexington, looking after his horses which are in winter quarters at Kenmore Farm. Mr. Bauer reports a clean bill of health and that his coming 2-year-olds are a very choice lot. Many of these have been appropriately named as will be seen by the following list:

Mary Street, ch f, by Onondaga—Bonnie Lee.
Pondage, br c, by Halma—Miss Longford.
Peper, br c, by Halma—Bo Peep.

Richard Croker, accompanied by Senator Murphy, David Gideon, and Dr. Crosby, of New York, spent last Sunday in Lexington the guests of Colonel William S. Barnes, master of "Melbourne." Croker was en route from New York to French Lick Springs, Ind., and left Sunday night for that place. He has his two cracks, Beau Gallant and Bellario, at Colonel Barnes' place. He had never before seen the famous farm. The forenoon was spent at the farm, and the party was later entertained at luncheon at Colonel Barnes' home in the city.

John E. Madden has secured from William Lakeland imp. Ogden, which enjoys the distinction of having won both before and after having been retired to the stud. Ogden will be placed in the stud at Hamburg Place and will next spring be bred to a choice lot of mares. William Lakeland bought Ogden at the Daly dispersal sale for $4,200, and the horse won five races this year, two of them on the same day.

Ogden is a magnificent looking brown horse, foaled in 1894, by Kilwarin, dam Oriole by Bend d'Or. He belongs to the number six family of the figure system, whose representatives have been twelve times winner of the Epsom Derby. His sire was a superior race horse and winner of the classic St. Leger and other important stakes. The dam is sired by the Derby winner Bend d'Or, sire of the horse of the century, Ormonde. As a two year-old Ogden started eight times and won five races, being three times second, twice to a stable companion. He is the only imported horse that ever won the classic Futurity, in which he defeated among others the great Ornament. He won the Great Eastern Handicap, running the Futurity course with 125 pounds up in 1:10, defeating Ornament, The Friar, Voter, Typhoon, Sunny Slope and others. In his four-year-old form he took four races. He was then retired to the Bitter Root Stud and next appeared this season after he had been purchased by Lakeland. At Sheepshead Bay, on September 2, he picked up 130 pounds, top weight, and won at six furlongs in 1:13 1/5, finishing ahead of Cameron, Bellario, Unmasked and others. He started that same afternoon in a handicap at one and one sixteenth miles on the turf, carried 126 pounds, again top weight, and won handily from such as Monarka, Kinnikinnick and others.

One remarkable fact in connection with Ogden is that he retires at seven years as found as the day he was foaled, something that is exceedingly rare. The American horse as a rule is compelled to retire after a campaign of two or three years on account of various infirmities.

Algernon Daingerfield, acting in behalf of P. J. Dwyer, has purchased from James B. Clay, the black weanling colt by Handspring, out of Mon Droit by Falsetto, for $2,000. This youngster is a brother to Major Daingerfield.

James Murphy, the well-known trainer, has moved from Lexington, and is now located at Sheepshead Bay, where he has a stable of four horses.

Messrs. Engman & Wilkerson have placed the Wagner-Margaret Jane colt, in the hands of Frank Jones, who will train him at Gravesend, where his stable is wintering.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

The Western Jockey Club will reinstate many more so-called "outlaw" horsemen and horses at its next meeting in Chicago. This is evidenced in the following announcement of Secretary Macfarlan, of the Memphis Jockey Club:

"For the benefit of horsemen who will probably be reinstated at the next meeting of the stewards of the Western Jockey Club, the New Memphis Jockey Club has extended the time for the closing of its stakes to January 7, and will receive entries subject to the action of the stewards of the Western turf body."

TRAINER PINCUS COMING TO AMERICA.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Mr. Jacob Pincus, who trained Pierre Lorillard's Iroquois for the Derby, will sail for the United States this week.

Arrivals at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 19.—Arrivals today were Book-maker Max Frank and Jockeys Jed and Will Waldo, who were with Ed Corrigan in England last season. Will, the younger, will probably have a mount tomorrow. He says he has been offered $10,000 to ride in France next season, but does not know whether he will again go abroad. Lucien Lynegalloped horses this morning, and expects to ride tomorrow. Tiny Williams arrived tonight, and will ride here the balance of the meeting.

Francis Trevelyan, the American turf correspondent in England, writes as follows:

The prominent positions assumed by Americans in the summaries of the flat racing season now being published are very interesting. In point of fact, Mr. Whitney's names should be at the head of the list of winning owners. The figures as published put Sir J. Blundell Maple, the great furniture dealer, first, with 21,370 pounds, and Mr. Whitney second, with 19,720.10 pounds; but lower down the list one runs across the name of Major Eustace Loder, credited with 920 pounds. Now of this very considerable amount most probably quite 6000 pounds was earned by the Gallinule two-year-old filly Game Chick, in whom, though she ran in Major Loder's colors, I know Mr. Whitney had an interest. As I have always understood it, Mr. Whitney had her racing qualities outright, but even if he had only a 50 per cent share this would easily put him at the head of the list. Foxhall Keene has done well, with 9169 pounds credited to him, while much further down the list comes his father, James R. Keene, with only 2,359 pounds.

Jockey "Patsy" Freeman has ridden the past two seasons in France and Russia and since his return from abroad has been visiting his relatives in Kentucky. He is not certain that he will go back to France next season; in fact, he hasn't made up his mind what he will do. Things did not break so rosy for "Patsy" the past season. While he quit the year some to the good he had to work harder than usual to keep ahead of the game.

Victor Porter, the steeplechase jockey, who was ruled off at New Orleans last winter for alleged complicity in a job race through the field, has filed suit for $2,500 damages against C. S. Bush, General Manager; Sheridan Clark, Secretary, and Captain Rees, presiding steward of the Crescent City Jockey Club. He also prays for an injunction enjoining said parties from preventing him riding in races, and thus earning a livelihood.

Pat Dunne is among the recent arrivals at San Francisco.

$100 Reward, $100.

METROPOLITAN GOSSIP.

GRAVESEND, L. I., Dec. 17, 1901.

Editor Thoroughbred Record:

Just at present all the racing of the New York contingent has to be done around the stove, and if you want to see any member of the racing fraternity, owner, trainer, jockey or bookmaker, the place to meet with him is in the vestibule of one or other of the large New York hotels. The winter conversational stakes are not so exciting as the summer racing article, but they suffice to while away many an hour. The reputations of both horses and men are handled in the most reckless fashion around the stove, and it is indeed fortunate that the many insinuations don't go when it comes to racing in the open, otherwise everyone would be ruled off and no one left to keep the game going. The influx of trainers and jockeys from abroad gave us all a chance to vary the topic of conversation, and discuss foreign racing and racing methods in place of our own. Now they have for the most part scattered to their various homes for Xmas and the enjoyment of their holidays, so that we are left once again to our old resources, and have settled down by the stove to canvass reputations.

John Huggins was to have left for Texas yesterday, but is at present the victim of a bad cold, and has had to postpone his trip. Accustomed to the English climate he found the hot air of our New York hotels oppressive, and spoke frequently about throwing his windows open and getting a supply of fresh air. Marconi might have been able to transmit a supply from Newmarket, but Marconi is busy in Newfoundland, and the New York article admitted through the windows did not have the desired effect, but instead gave him a cold.

Frank Taylor is getting over his severe operation for appendicitis very nicely and is now allowed to see any friends who may call upon him. He will, of course, be confined to his bed for some time to come, but the critical period is past, and he hopes to be with his horses again in the early spring. His brother-in-law Sam C. Hildreth is still with him, and with Mrs. Hildreth expects to remain until after the holidays. Hildreth admits to having had a very profitable summer's racing, and also has collected a first-class string with which to continue the campaign next year. His horses are wintering at Memphis.

Jim McCormick, the trainer, did not go with the few horses he sent to take part in the racing at San Francisco but shipped them in charge of his foreman. Their owner, L. V. Bell, accompanied them, indeed, he only sent them because he was going to California himself, and needed them to give him an interest in the racing.

News comes from New Orleans that the Whitney jockey, Cochran, came near to being killed by a fall from John Bull on Monday last in the closing race of the day. Those who saw him fall in the middle of the bunch are still wondering how he escaped with his life. He has been remarkably lucky throughout the season, and it is only a month ago when he had two close shaves of being knocked out on the horses Dewey and Alack at Washington. The complaint usually made in connection with little Cochran is that "his father persists in giving him his final orders how to ride his mounts, no matter whether the instructions agree with those of the trainer or not." The best thing his father can do for him is to keep away, for it begins to look as if he is "hoodooing" the boy. He is not riding as well by a long way as he did at the commencement of last season, and is fortunate, indeed, in having obtained the contract he did, before commencing to retrograde.

The arrest and indictment of Charles Bennett, as an assistant to poolroom keeper "The Allen," looks as if it was about to bring about the long-talked of trial as to the legality of betting on the race track, and illegality of betting elsewhere. Allen put up $5,000 for his man, and his trial was removed from the Court of General Sessions to the United States Court, where the long vexed question will be definitely decided. Benjamin Steinhardt is, as usual, the counsel for the poolroom keeper, and he has engaged J. R. Dos Pasos to assist him. If Dos Pasos is sustained in his contention as to the law, prohibiting betting in one place and not in another, being unconstitutional, all the poolrooms in New York (some 200 in number) will be thrown open. The Jockey Club would be adverse to any such outcome, so have obtained permission to be represented by their solicitors at the Bennett trial, and the fight will now be, as "The Allen" expresses it, "to a finish."

The appraisal of the late Pierre Lorillard's estate was filed last week in Jersey City, and the amount of it came as a great surprise to many, who had imagined Mr. Lorillard a great deal wealthier man. The personal estate is valued at $1,797,925.23, instead of some five or six millions as generally anticipated. Talking on the subject of money and investments the last time Lorillard paid a visit to Sheepshead Bay races he remarked to a friend: "I have a couple of millions to play with, and I think that will last me to enjoy myself for the rest of my life." His mind was evidently set upon making the best of his time, rather than making money, and that accounts for the comparatively small amount of the personalty he left behind him.

Among the items appraised were a life insurance policy for $166,837.37, and stock in many corporations, footing up $1,433,550. Among the real estate holdings are 13,937 shares of Tuxedo Club stock valued at $696,550. He held 24 shares of Keeley Motor stock, value nothing, and a claim of $287,000 against Jacob Lorillard, also worthless. Mr. Lorillard's English horses are worth $55,840. His American stables are valued at $69,775, and the Rancocas property is scheduled at $75,000. All of the Rancocas interests go to Mrs. Lillie B. Allien by direction of the will—a total value of $200,615. To Mrs. Emily T. Lorillard, his widow, Mr. Lorillard left an annuity of $24,000, and personal property worth $26,325 in the house No. 8, Washington Square, which he owned. This amount included all the tapestries and paintings in the house. Appraised among the English horses David Garrick is valued at $9,680.

The sale of the Empire City race track which was to have taken place last week was once again postponed. This time to Dec. 26. The creditors of the estate, including racing creditors, are becoming dissatisfied with the continued delay, and think that they are not getting a fair deal, but that those who are anxious to get hold of the track are having the sale put off to suit their purposes. In the interim they have been buying up claims at 50 cents on the dollar, and have by that means secured $200,000 worth of claims.

The Jockey Club has decided the case of A. L. Aste and his jockey, Harry Michaels, in favor of the former. Michaels wished to break with his employer recently because Aste had decided that the boy was liable to get into trouble if away from his guardianship, and ordered him to join his stable at Sheepshead Bay. Michaels wanted to go to either New Orleans or California to ride this winter and his father, too, wished it, because he realizes that a jockey's lightweight life is short, and he should make hay while the sun shines. Aste was unable to leave New York this winter, owing to business detaining him. Michaels, therefore, endeavored to trump up a charge that Aste had not fulfilled the terms of his contract, nor paid his money at the stipulated time, wherefore, he felt entitled to break his contract and leave. The Jockey Club easily saw where the discontent arose, and the reason of it, so decided in favor of the employee. It is bad business for owners and jockeys to be at loggerheads, but Aste is, without doubt, acting in the best interests of the boy, and the head of the fruit department will see that that is so if he considers for a moment. He should admonish little Harry with his slipper, and fix his seat.

Mrs. Tony Gray—nee Lilly Hamlin—who was well-known to many race track visitors at Gravesend, died suddenly at her father's hotel, on the boulevard side of the track, Friday night last. She had been suffering from typhoid, and pneumonia developed, which ended fatally inside of twenty four hours.

W. C. Whitney has engaged room for a shipment to England on board the Minnehaha, which sails Dec. 28. Just now the turf correspondents are kept busy guessing which of the two Derby candidates will be sent Nasturtium or Goldsmith? It is an open question, but the chances are decidedly in favor of Nasturtium being selected since Huggins is more partial to him.

The State Supervisor of Racing Accounts has just issued his report, and the Hayseeds will be able to enjoy a Merry Xmas, for their mammoth turnip fund has reached dimensions beyond even the most sanguine expectations. The banner year up to date had been 1894 with a total of $125,000 from both running and trotting associations. This year the sum total reaches $128,581.80 contributed by our six racing associations, as follows:

Coney Island Jockey Club	$32,016.39
Brooklyn Jockey Club	29,673.64
Westchester Racing Association	21,609.39
Brighton Beach Racing Association	20,380.59
Saratoga Association	13,630.61
Queens County Jockey Club	11,270.83

Total$128,581.80

The gross receipts of these same associations amounted in all to $2,571,630.00. A fine showing, but it is rather an ill advised proceeding to publish it. Those Hayseeds will surely be making another strike when they see such figures in print.

John E. Madden has bought Wm. Lakeland's useful horse imp. Ogden for the stud, and he will shortly join that gentleman's useful collection at Hamburg Place. Ogden is now 7 seven years old, and is an imported horse sired by Kilwarlin, dam Oriole by Band Or—Fenella by Cambuscan. Kilwarlin is essentially an Irish bred horse, being sired by Arbitrator (by the Irish horse Solon—True Heart), out of Hasty Girl by Lord Gough, which was also an Irish sire. As a 2-year-old Ogden started 8 times and won 5, being second the other three. (Twice to a stable companion and in the Flatbush to Ornament). He has the distinction of being the only imported horse which has won our Futurity. In the Great Eastern Handicap he carried 125 lbs. and won, beating Ornament, The Friar, Voter, Typhoon II, Sunny Slope, Box, etc., and proved himself without a doubt the best of the year. Later he was retired to Marcus Daly's stud and we shall very shortly see some of his get taking part in the races. Purchased by Lakeland out of the Daly sale last January for $4,200 he was once again put into training and was most successful. He performed the rare feat of winning two races in one afternoon at Sheepshead Bay, proving himself a horse of exceptional merit. Without doubt he has a great future before him as a sire, and Madden has used his accustomed good judgment in securing him for his choice band of mares.

"CITIZEN."

HIDALGO'S PRATTLE.

NASHVILLE, TENN., Dec. 16, 1901.

Editor Thoroughbred Record:

I reached the city of Andrew Jackson at 8 o'clock in the evening, in the midst of a copious downpour, and, on the day following, accompanied Mr. E. S. Gardner, Jr., on a trip down to Avondale Farm, where I saw all his horses. Old Himyar, now at the close of his twenty-sixth year, is the best preserved horse I ever saw. His back is but little swayed with age and he plays about his paddock like a yearling, in spite of his permanent blindness. As I looked at him it occurred to me how singular it was that America had preserved the male lines of Glencoe and Orlando, the cracks of their respective eras, while they were wholly extinct in England, and the same is equally true of the male lines of Whisker and Emilius in Australia. Himyar is a horse of singular beauty and it must almost have broken the dear old Major's heart to part with him. Behind the saddle the great sweep of his powerful thighs recalls the immortal Stockwell, but the clean-cut neck and expressive head, all point to Orlando. Himyar is so far the only stallion that ever got, in America, at least, the winners of over $240,000 in a single season, and with the severe competition that now exists between stallions in this country, it is almost an even bet that the same mark will never again be reached. Irquois, Longfellow and imp. Sir Modred, each made a magnificent show in the years of his premiership, but none of them ever touched the $200,000 mark. Judge then, what must be the chance against any other horse equalling the high-water mark of sightless old Himyar.

Masetto, the imported son of St. Simon and Lady Abbess, came next and a very handsome young horse he is, a rich brown in color and very much like St. Simon about the head and neck. As the sire of the consistent Thomas Cat, the speedy Waring and the ill-fated Tommy Atkins, this lusty young stallion, so full of the vital energy that characterized his noted ancestor, Voltigeur, commends himself very readily to admirers of the Blacklock line that has reached supremacy after nearly seventy years of obloquy and neglect. He is not only a horse of more than ordinary beauty, but a horse of unusual strength, his back and loins being broad enough for an island. His youngsters all show this feature of conformation in a strongly marked degree. His other stallion, imported Quicklime, I did not see. The weanlings at Avondale are a choice lot, all looking rugged and healthy. There are half-brothers and half-sisters to such celebrities as White Frost, Bangle, Soufflé and a dozen others of big money winners in the past five seasons.

The mares in Mr. Gardner's paddocks are more remarkable for size and good looks than for numbers. He breeds on the same plan as the late John M. Clay and prefers a select lot of horses to an enormous big herd of nothings. Avondale is a small farm well arranged and all its details most admirably systematized, and I trust Mr. Gardner will be in no hurry to increase its dimensions.

It was a bitter cold, sleety day last Saturday, when Gen. Jackson sent in his carriage to drive my wife and self out to historical Belle Meade. But "the cheerful hearth's gleam made sadness a stranger" as the battle-scarred veteran met us at the door and welcomed us with that cordiality that is part and parcel of his nature. The storm raged without, but all was comfort and geniality within. Belle Meade is the oldest organized breeding farm in America, founded in 1807, by John Harding, father of Gen. William Green Harding, one of whose daughters married Gen. Jackson, while her sister became the wife of his brother, the late Judge Howell E. Jackson, of the United States Supreme Court. John Harding reclaimed some of this land from its canebrake condition, and, as William came up, he carried on the good work. As the condition of the place gradually became improved, Gen. William G. Harding erected the magnificent old mansion that has defied the storms of nearly seventy winters. The storm lulled for about half an hour, and we set out for a look at the stallions. First we came to Longstreet, the marvellous campaigner of the past decade. How good a race-horse he was, no one can exactly tell, but, taking Tenny as a trial horse between them, I must always believe him to have been the superior of Salvator, because the latter had all he could do to beat Tenny a head or a neck, while Longstreet invariably beat him two lengths and upwards. Nor can they say it was because Tenny had grown stale, because he won the Brooklyn Handicap, after Salvator had retired from the turf forever. The next horse shown was imported Tithonus, a very good looking son of St. Simon. The first of his get appeared during this past season. Next came dear old Luke Blackburn, awayed down with his twenty four years and looking a great deal more like Lexington than Bonnie Scotland. After him came the beauty horse, Inspector B., the handsomest horse on the farm, if not in all America. He is a worthy son of a worthy sire, and I really believe the get of Enquirer won more races than that of any other stallion, native or imported. Next was The Commoner, by Hanover, a magnificent chestnut and about as strong a horse as one would wish to see. He caught my wife's eye more than any of the rest. After him came that neat-looking little English gentleman, imp. Maddison, by Hampton, a trifle on the small order, but with no end of quality. Next was imported Loyalist, brother to Paradox, who won the Two Thousand Guineas and Grand Prix de Paris, and the procession was wound up by Mont d'Or, a good-looking son of imp. Rayon d'Or, who was head and shoulders the best three-year-old of 1879. The stallions were all in their winter coats and looked rugged and healthy. After inspecting them, we returned to the magnificent old home and sat down to such a luncheon as only Belle Meade can furnish.

The yearlings and weanlings we saw after lunch and they certainly were a choice lot. The yearlings embrace the last of the get of the Derby winner Iroquois and Mr. W. H. Jackson, Jr., is now having them prepared for the Spring campaign, by Henry Gerhardt, at one time a popular Western jockey. They are all in good health and most of them have already shown plenty of speed. I forgot to mention Huron (brother to G. W. Johnson, sire of Lieutenant Gibson), in my enumeration of the Belle Meade sires. I like him better than any Iroquois horse I have yet seen. He has all the muscular power of his sire, but is a longer-bodied horse for his height and breeds a more substantial type of horse. In color he is a beautiful brown and as intelligent looking a horse as one could wish to see. There were 36 weanlings in the barn and only two of the lot that could be deemed undersized. All were gifted with plenty of bone and excellent feet. It would not astonish me to hear that the General got the old-time Bonnie Scotland and Iroquois prices for these youngsters at his next sale.

Five o'clock came and the carriage came up to the door to take us back to town. In a voice tremulous with emotion, the kindly master of Belle Meade bid us good-bye and exacted a promise from us not to wait another fifteen years without coming around to see him. The trusty old darkey on the box clucked to his horses and the magnificent bays dashed forward into the darkness, leaving behind us the sweetest old home and the most genial host in all the Sunny South. THOROUGHBREDS THAT DEGENERATE AND DISAPPEAR IN MALE TAIL.

LEXINGTON, KY., Dec. 20, 1901.

Editor Thoroughbred Record:

In looking over the racing calendar for the past ninety years, we find quite a number of horses that were prominent at that time, both upon the turf and in the stud. Branches from the three lines—Eclipse, Herod and Matchem—and these collateral branches have disappeared altogether in the male line. For instance, there is Beningbrough, winner of the St. Leger in 1794. He was the sire of Orville, winner of the St. Leger 1802, of Briseis, Oaks 1807; of Oriana, Oaks in 1810. This Beningbrough or Orville blood was very popular as well as successful from 1802 to Plenipotentiary's year, 1834. Octavius, Derby 1812, was by Orville. Equilius was by Orville and both Priam and Plenipotentiary were by Emilius. This line of Eclipse from some cause or other has entirely disappeared from the turf.

Sarpedon, Yorkshire, Monarch, Sovereign, Riddlesworth, Mercer and Margrave, were all imported horses and have gone down under the law of the survival of the fittest, just as their brothers did in England. Then there is the family of Dick Andrews. His son Tramp, was one of the gamest and stoutest horses of his time. He got two Derby winners in succession in St. Giles and Dangerous in '32-'33, and in the latter year Tarantella, his daughter, won the One Thousand Guineas. Then there was Lottery and Liverpool, who was the sire of Lanercost, who was the sire of Von Tromp, the St. Leger winner of 1847. This is the last of that family, unless it be Don John, who was by Tramp or Waverly. Don John was the sire of Iago, who was the sire of Bonnie Scotland, who is the sire of Luke Blackburn, Bramble and others. Who can with the history of the Tramp family before them, say that Bonnie Scotland's family will survive the ordeal. Then again there is Golumpus, Catton, Royal Oak and Slane; there is Trustee, Revenue and Planet. Where are the Planets and where are the Slanes and Mulattoes? Then there is Diomed, Sir Archy, Timoleon, Boston, Lexington and Asteroid; then the three other sons of Sir Archy—Sumpter, Sir Charles and Bertrand. Sir Charles left Wagner. In all the many lines from Diomed, Duroc, American Eclipse and Cherokee, all have thrown up the sponge.

This history of the turf is of great importance to the breeder. From its pages we learn that some families go down, while others rise up and go to the front. What has happened in the past is taking place at the present time. There is one of the great English families that has been and is still very popular to all.

One of the great families that has been very popular for the last thirty years and is still admired by many breeders—the Stockwell line—is certainly but gradually giving way to superior force. In the past twenty-four years a Stockwell stallion has headed the list of winning stallions but twice—Orme in 1899 and Kendal in 1897—and the success of both was almost entirely due to one horse each—namely Flying Fox and Galtee More. The Faugh-a-Ballagh line has gone down in other countries and is sure in the near future to be dead to the turf in this country too. Neither Jils Johnson, Falsetto, The Bard, Longstreet, Faustus, Sensation nor Logic, can keep it up to race-horse standard. GEO. VOORHIES.

NASHVILLE NOTES.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 19, 1901.

Editor Thoroughbred Record:

Among the many attractive strings of horses hibernating at Cumberland Park, none commands more attention than the stable of E. S. Gardner, who has recently joined the ranks as trainer, and is now, therefore, breeder, owner and trainer. Mr. Gardner's horses, ten in number, are coming 2-year-olds, and aside from beautiful breeding they are "topnotchers" in individuality. About the most highly tried youngster in the bunch is the able-looking brown colt by imp. Tithonus, out of Trade Wind (dam of Gotham) by imp. Great Tom, the chestnut filly by imp. Loyalist, out of Penitence II., by imp. Great Tom, she out of Irrepentance, by Iroquois, is a most precocious looking miss, and rumor has it that she does not belie her appearance, as she is said to have displayed a marvellous turn of speed last autumn. A list of the horses follows:

Bay colt, by imp. Loyalist—Elfrida.
Bay colt, by imp. Quicklime—Sumatra.
Bay colt, by imp. Quicklime—Fidele.
Brown colt, by imp. Tithonus—Trade Wind.
Bay colt, by imp. Quicklime—Charmette.
Bay colt, by Longstreet—Lilly B.
Brown filly, by imp. Loyalist—Taffeta.
Chestnut filly, by imp. Masetto—Venice.
Chestnut filly, by imp. Loyalist—Penitence II.
Bay filly, by imp. Masetto—Porcelain.

NASTURTIUM TO RACE IN ENGLISH DERBY.

The two-year-old Nasturtium, by imp. Watercress—Margerique, has been selected to carry Mr. W. C. Whitney's colors in next year's English Derby. This conclusion was arrived at very recently at a conference of those most concerned in the colt, including Mr. Whitney, John W. Rogers and Trainer Huggins. The latter will have charge of the colt's preparation for the classic event. At this conference the merits of Goldsmith and Nasturtium were discussed at length. Some favored Goldsmith, but after every point had been considered it was decided to give Nasturtium the honor, and he will be shipped on the Minnehaha on December 28.

"This is a bad time of the year for the shipment of horses," said Mr. Whitney, "but by sending the colt over now it will give him more time to recuperate after his arrival."

Mr. Whitney is paying personal attention to the welfare of Nasturtium preparatory to making the journey. He inspected the Minnehaha, the sister ship to the Minnehaha, recently and made arrangements for the location of the stall, also its fittings, so that everything would be done for the comfort of the horse and to minimize the chances of accident and sickness.

Mr. Huggins will not go with the horse, which will be in charge of one of the most responsible men from the Whitney stables. This man has not yet been selected.

Mamie English was bred by Milton Young at McGrathiana Stud and was purchased for $750 by Mr. Radel at the December sales in Lexington last year. She proved a good investment, and under the handling of George Cadwallader and Sporty Sayre she started sixteen times, was first four times, second four times and third three times. She broke her maiden at Latonia on Derby Day at 50 to 1. She never won a stake, being badly ridden in the Clipseeta at Latonia and the Petite at Harlem, both of which were won by Endurance by Right. Mr. Radel was offered $3,000 for her on November 19, but declined it with the statement that he believed she would be worth more than that amount to him as a three-year-old.

IN KENTUCKY.

Imp. Sir Singeinton,

Brown horse, foaled 1890, by Marden (son of Hermit and Barchettina), dam Harmonica, by Hampton, &c., &c.

This is a very fashionably bred horse and should get race horses if he had a chance. He is a splendid individual, 15.3½ hands, compact conformation, with powerful bone and muscle.

He has made three seasons here to native bred mares, and his half bred colts, as yearlings, have sold higher than any colts in the county.

I want to give him a chance to some thoroughbred mares, therefore will lease him to a good man in Kentucky for one or two seasons at a reasonable price. Address
